Abstract

This document is a response to a tweet. It is of very limited interest.

Status of This Memo

This Internet-Draft is submitted in full conformance with the provisions of BCP 78 and BCP 79.

Internet-Drafts are working documents of the Internet Engineering Task Force (IETF). Note that other groups may also distribute working documents as Internet-Drafts. The list of current Internet-Drafts is at http://datatracker.ietf.org/drafts/current/.

Internet-Drafts are draft documents valid for a maximum of six months and may be updated, replaced, or obsoleted by other documents at any time. It is inappropriate to use Internet-Drafts as reference material or to cite them other than as "work in progress."

This Internet-Draft will expire on March 26, 2019.

1. Introduction

The problem is that individual internet drafts are just about as easy to post as tweets, and receive just as much vetting. Really, until they're adopted as a working group item, they're no more authoritative than a personal blog entry.

2. Security Considerations

This document introduces no security issues.

3. IANA Considerations

This document requires no actions from IANA.
