

JSCalendar

- In last call
- Formatting improvements and small revisions have been made since IETF105:
  - Added participationComment (commonly used)
  - Added recurrenceId property (needed when representing an instance of an expanded event)
- Still to do: ensure we match calext-valarm-extensions, review examples and security considerations and expand if necessary
- Hope to finish last call and submit to IESG review after this meeting

JSCalendar-iCalendar

- Informational RFC on translating between the two.
- Not planning to publish concurrently: get JSCalendar out then we can ensure conversion guide matches final doc.
- Hope to publish later this year
